DISCLAIMER

This report was prepared by the Office of Agricultural Affairs of the USDA/Foreign Agricultural Service in Rabat, Morocco for U.S. exporters of domestic food and agricultural products. While every possible care was taken in the preparation of this report, information provided may not be completely accurate either because policies have changed since its preparation, or because clear and consistent information about these policies was not available. It is highly recommended that U.S. exporters verify the full set of import requirements with their foreign customers, who are normally best equipped to research such matters with local authorities, before any goods are shipped.

FINAL IMPORT APPROVAL OF ANY PRODUCT IS SUBJECT TO THE IMPORTING COUNTRY'S RULES AND REGULATIONS AS INTERPRETED BY BORDER OFFICIALS AT THE TIME OF PRODUCT ENTRY.

Please contact this office, if you have any comments, corrections or suggestions about the material contained in this report. Our e-Mail address is agrabat@usda.gov

This report provides the list of certificates required by the government inspectors in charge of controlling food and agricultural imports into Morocco. Samples of newly agreed upon certificates between the Ministry of Agriculture and USDA are also provided for products of particular interest to United States.

At the points of entry, the sanitary control and the conformity with the local regulation for food and agricultural products is carried out primarily by Ministry of Agriculture inspectors. In major ports (Casablanca, Agadir, and Tanger), the importer deals with one Ministry of Agriculture office, the DCQ (Direction de Controle de la Qualité) and the dispatch of the importation documents is done internally depending of the type of product (animal, plant, raw, or processed).

Typically, the clearing process by DCQ inspectors consists of up to three major steps based on the familiarity with commodity, importer's experience, and origin:

- a) The inspector clears the commodity by merely checking the documents provided.
- b) The inspector might require physical inspection of the imported commodity before clearance.
- c) The inspector might require that samples of the imported goods be drawn and sent to local GOM approved laboratory for analysis.

DCQ inspectors issue a certificate that authorizes the importer to clear customs. Customs officers will not authorize the goods into the country without a certificate issued at the point of entry by the DCQ inspectors.

For newly imported products, the exporter should provide extensive documentation (description of the products, lab analysis result, certification of approval by the government of the exporting country, etc.) to help DCQ inspector make a quick decision and not request laboratory analysis. Some importers send samples of newly imported products to the DCQ office before they ship the products to get a feel of what would be required to swiftly clear customs.

Normally, it takes less than a week to clear products through customs. If a sample of food is taken for laboratory analysis, the customs clearance may be delayed up to 8 days.

In addition, the certificates that are typically required by customs office are:

- Bill of lading
- Original invoice
- Packing List
- Certificate issued by the Ministry of Agriculture DCQ that the commodity has been inspected and passed the sanitary control.
- Certificate of Origin. Although under the upcoming FTA with the US the certificate of origin will not be requested and the origin will be determined by the importer's declaration and accompanying documents (invoice, bill of lading, etc..)

See Model Certificate # 7 in Appendix.

III. Section IV: Government Certificates' Legal Entry Requirements

The Ministry of Agriculture will accept only certificates issued by government officials. Certificates issued by federal agencies as well as by state government agencies are normally accepted and even if not explicitly required could help greatly the acceptance of the products. In most cases, certification issued by the exporting companies or by entities that are not accredited and duly authorized by the U.S. government (such as private labs) are not sufficient evidence to clear sanitary inspection.

Issuance Date/Duration of the certificates: There is a regulation that explicitly requires that phytosanitary certificates (for fresh fruits and vegetable and live plant materials) be issued at most 14 days before loading. For other products, to our knowledge, there is no regulation that specifies the duration of validity of the sanitary certificate. However, for some commodities (such as dairy cattle, cattle semen) and because of the laboratory tests required, the results might be valid only for a certain period before the tests have to be redone. Specifically for dairy products, it is suitable that the date on the AMS certificate be prior to the date of shipment of the product.

The Ministry of Agriculture expects the certificate to be issued before the date of shipment. In some particular cases however, the Ministry of Agriculture, meaning adequate explanation of the control system in the United States, could accept certificates that are issued after the loading time.

Original of the certificates are needed by electronic and fax copies might be accepted to swiftly clear customs but the importer remains responsible for providing the original of the certificate.

Each shipment must have a separate sanitary certificate.

For goods transiting through Europe, a sanitary certificate issued by the U.S. authorities is required. If, originally the good was not specifically meant to be exported to Morocco, the sanitary certificate issued by USDA to the European Authorities can be accepted but an additional certificate certifying that the commodity has been properly handled and stored while in Europe might be necessary.

IV. Section V: Other Certification / Accreditation Requirements

The Ministry of Agriculture does require for imported food products a radioactivity free certificate.
